ABSOLUTELY UNTRUE.

The Journal is informed that a report is being industriously circulated by Republicans, who, to further their own ends, are endeavoring to create dissensions among the advocates of free coinage and the payment of the indebtedness of the subsidized railroads, that Francis G. Newlands when nominated for Congress at the Carson Convention, did not endorse the platform adopted by the convention. That report, by whomsoever circulated, is untrue. Mr. Newlands did endorse the platform and pronounced it an able and dignified address. Every word uttered by the gentleman when he accepted the nomination was taken down and could be published at any time. The facts are, the platform is comprehensive and to the point. It treats on every vital issue. There is not a plank in it that every good citizen and well-wisher of the State cannot endorse. It has stood as a stone wall in the way of the enemy who dare not attempt to scale it or batter it down, and Mr. Newlands not only endorses it but commended it as an able and dignified address. As the platform is unsailable and the Republicans dare not attack it, they are endeavoring to make it appear that the Silver party nominee for Congress did not endorse it.

DOUGHTY.

It seems a pity that designing politicians should get hold of a man like Doughty and then toying with his vanity induce him to run for Congress, in the hopes that his appearance in the field of politics will help or hurt some one.

Wherever he goes the Republicans give him an ovation, pat him on the back and tell him that he will be the next Congressman. He is too egotistical to realize that all this play is to keep him in the field in the hopes of drawing a few stray votes.

He does not realize that the men who are making a cats paw of him will not vote for him. They are merely Bartine men trying to pull votes from Newlands.

The Amendments.

Just before the close of his remarks last night, Hon. H. F. Bartine referred to the proposed constitutional amendments which are to be voted on at the ensuing election. He said he did this, not as a partisan, but as a citizen only. He advised that the amendments be voted down, for unless all were carried, the greatest confusion would result. The proper way, he thought, to remedy any defects in our present Constitution was to frame and adopt a new constitution suited to our contracted resources. This appears to be the general sentiment with regard to the amendments. In the western part of the State some of the most influential papers are opposed to the amendments, and since there are so many that a man ordinarily cannot inform himself with regard to them, a safe way will be to ignore them altogether, or to vote directly against them.—Pioneer Record.

The Independent is almost inclined to take the same view of the constitutional amendments that the Record takes. The adoption of some and the rejection of others will so confuse the organic law of the State that it will need more than a score of Philadelphia lawyers to straighten it out.—Elko Independent.

William Webster of Reno has resigned as nominee for Regent at the University on the Populist ticket.

The Board of Equalization of Washoe county raised the assessment of the Reno Water, Land & Light Co. from $49,000 to $75,000 and the company retaliated by raising the water for sewers from $35 to $64 per month and water for fire purposes from $25 to $50 per month. The Board of Commissioners, acting as a Board of Town Councilmen, then ordered that all street lights furnished by the company be discontinued after November 1st. Reno's thugs will then be in clover.

The Hawthorne Bulletin, a Republican paper, says: "The attack of the Republican party on John E. Jones, Silver party nominee for Governor, was unwise and impolitic. Nobody believes that Mr. Jones would steal $400 in eight years' service. Such stories are not doing Mr. Cleveland any good."
